The frigate had heedlessly past her by: Her arrowy masts in the evening sky, Where the light of the day was well-nigh gone, Were no marks for the eye to rest upon. A night and a day Have glided away; Helmless and motionless there she lay, Tossed by the surges and dash d by the spray, A shapeless speck amidst the foam - But that shapeless speck is the Rover s home. III. It is evening and the sun is set, But the track of his glory is beaming yet. Spreading along the horizon s line With a mellow d radiance of light divine, As the echo of song at the music s close, Or the lingering scent of the wither d rose. IV. There came a moaning on the water, But it was not a woman s cry. As of a mother or a daughter In the first wild agony Of death s bereavement; nor the broken tone Of childhood...
