Stamens ten, often bent downward; those opposite the petals all or in part destitute of anthers; those opposite the sepals devoid of an anterior gland. Awnlike prolongations of the fruitlets spirally seceding from the lengthened fruit-axis and partially bearded inside. Cotyledons elliptic, flat or slightly curved.--Herbs or shrubs; flowers usually in umbels. The characteristics here explained may be easily ascertained in any garden. Pelargonium, for instance, contains the so-called Scarlet Geranium of South Africa. Our native species of Pelargonium number only two; and even these stand to each other in such close affinity, that they might be considered as mere varieties of one. The commoner of the two is scientifically recorded as Pelargonium australe, already at the Fig. XXXIII. commencement of Australian colonisation. A herb from a few inches to a few feet high, more or less downy. Leaves heartshaped or...
