This struggle; therefore, is of necessity, I think, a struggle to the death. Our antagonists against whom we are fighting to-day are acting on a certain theory of the state. This, gentlemen, I think, is one of the fundamental issues. They believe that the essence of a State is power. We believe in contrast, that the essence of a State is justice, the development of individual personality, mutual service of personalities in the State, and the service of the whole world by the State. Our enemy believes that the essence of the State is might: that there is no power superior to the State, no law of God or man that can bind the State; and that therefore the citizens of a...
